EXAM SKILLS FOCUS

In this topic you will:

- show that you understand the command word 'plot' and answer a 'plot' question
- show that you understand the assessment phrase 'to what extent' and answer a 'to what extent' question
- practise making connections between different topics.

The command word 'plot' means to mark point(s) on a graph/diagram/map. When responding to 'plot' questions, it is essential to present information clearly and accurately, using the correct scale, symbols or coordinates.

'To what extent' means to look at the degree to which something is true or accurate. 'To what extent' questions assess whether you can evaluate evidence, analyse information and form a balanced conclusion. To answer these types of questions, it is useful to present both sides of an argument before arriving at a conclusion.

This topic will also consider how to make connections across different concepts or topics. Making connections means recognising how different topics within geography link together, analysing patterns and making comparisons.
